Item 3-3/15 Short briefings.

1. Flour mites in the mouse facility were discovered 04.08.15. We contacted Oslo Veggdyrkontroll the same day. The attack was huge. There were no mice in the mouse-lab, and it was immediately isolated. Oslo Veggdyrkontroll removed the source and several infected items and sprayed the lab twice and later the whole lab- area once. We have inspected the area regularly and sprayed ourselves on local places several times. It seems now that the attack has burned out.
2. Mycobacterium Marinum: There has been confirmed an infection with Mycobacterium in the Zebrafish facility, the source from abroad. The specific fish tribe developing granuloma has been killed. All equipment have been washed and autoclaved. As a precaution new fish are sent for investigation. The facility is trying to establish a way to get the water analyzed. We have high dose UV treatment of the water. This mycobacterium may infect people working with the fish, especially through scars on hands, but Ullevål recommends no treatment before known infection. Symptoms are scars that will not heal. The M.Marinum is not transmitted between people.
3. The minus 150 freezer. We got a brand new freezer from the supplier. Everything is working fine.
4. Internal audit for Medical and health research at the Faculty of Medicine
We are working to get all REK-application and REK-approvals archived in e-phorte, replacing the local archiving. We are nearly done with our own projects, but still some work to do where we are just part of collaboration.
